BURKE CAPITAL IS GOOD FOR BUSINESS

A fresh look from experienced, outside professionals often results in new and innovative solutions that jumpstart progress and accelerate gains. That's what we do at Burke Capital Corporation (BCC). We are one of the region's most highly respected catalysts to business prosperity. For more than 20 years, BCC has provided capital, expertise and management to enable significant client performance gains, often in very challenging times.

PRACTICE AREAS

Capital Sourcing

BCC knows the capital sources that support a wide range of clients, from growth to middle market business. That knowledge, coupled with a comprehensive understanding of business operations and management, allows us to package and market your business, aligning company needs with capital availability.

Crisis Management

As crisis managers, we unleash each client's hidden resources. By implementing the Burke Capital 13-Week Cash Management Regimen™ and other proprietary techniques, we immediately stabilize cash flow by monetizing assets, prioritizing disbursements, and opening new lines of communication with outside stakeholders.

TEAM

Our principals are successful company founders, builders and managers from a wide variety of industries — so you have access to a deep well of experience. The BCC team of professionals has successfully managed a myriad of complex business challenges in healthy economies and recessions alike. Our combined experience represents over 50 years of turnaround management and more than 100 years of growth leadership — and our Integrated Expert Network™, hundreds of affiliated professional service providers, is available for additional support.

Restructuring

Severe cash flow challenges require a comprehensive plan to address critical relationships with creditors, lenders, shareholders and employees. These situations are particularly unnerving, but you have more options than you realize. The professionals at BCC can offer solutions grounded in years of experience facing similar circumstances to help you get through these troubling times.

Exits and Harvests

How will your efforts be rewarded after you've worked so hard to build your business? That's a complicated question with a number of possible answers, some better than others. Increasing the number and value of the options available is our specialty, as is guiding you to the best choices.
